Decision-Making Breakthrough

- Are you putting off a decision you know you need to make?
- Losing sleep; feeling the stress of indecision?
- Concerned about the future?
- Dealing with pertinent unresolved issues?
- Feeling unsure about the right decision?
- What's keeping you from making a decision and taking the next step?
- What is procrastination costing you?

Every day you defer probably compounds the problem and is likely costing you money and time. You know that continuing to avoid a critical decision can be detrimental to your business and will certainly increase your feeling of stress. You really want, and need, to make a decision to save your sanity and your business.

It's time to take command of the situation and reach a resolution so you can move forward. That's where I can help.

For the past 16 years I've been helping entrepreneurs and partners make tough decisions and develop strategies to accomplish their goals. Decisions about markets, technologies, financial concerns, hiring and firing, partnership issues, family and personal circumstances, and the list goes on.

Should I Shift My Strategy?

One client assessed market trends and realized a change in the nature of her business was needed. As a book importer she made the business-altering decision to reduce focus on hardcover books and increase focus on the rapidly growing trend in digital media.

Is It Worth Reconciling This Partnership?

Two partners were struggling with a growing resentment about unresolved issues. They realized they needed regular communication and a format for handling disagreements, so they decided to put a consistent communication plan in place and hold themselves accountable to it.

I'm ready to help YOU make your decision.

Because it's about the process, not the situation, it doesn't matter what decision you need to make or the outcome you seek. Your objective is to feel confident that you've made the right decision.

In two hours I will guide you through a short, but powerful step-by-step decision-making process that will help you reach a decision you will feel confident about. Then, if you wish, together we'll create the strategy to carry out your decision.

It's a straightforward simple process, but it can be difficult to navigate alone.

Dealing with challenges and making decisions are two major hurdles every business owner faces. If procrastination and stagnation have set in, now's the time to enroll in the two-hour Decision-Making Breakthrough.

What is this decision worth to you? Certainly more than $97, the price I am offering for this amazing breakthrough program. The price for these two hours would normally be $750, but if you are ready to move past procrastination and make your decision, it will be just $97 for the first 20 people who sign up.

To get started, send me a message giving me a summary of the situation and the decision you need to make. I will contact you to get the process started.
