With our unmatched expertise in all forms of audio and video system design, installation, and maintenance, our services are the ideal complement to any interior design or architectural project. We are fully capable in all size jobs, and we are truly a full service A/V company, so no job is too big or too small.

Our versatility allows us to work within any design or plan you have, and we can step in at any stage of project development. Our start to finish A/V services are designed to ensure quality design, sourcing, and installation of all audio and video components - from initial design or blueprinting to installation, and post-installation maintenance - again, all within any architectural plan or interior design.

Front Row does all types of Residential and Commercial A/V work from simple TV's and Media Rooms to full-blown Crestron and other brands of automation, Multi-Room Audio and Video, Lighting, Shade, and Thermostat Control, Commercial Digital Sign Displays, Video and Remote Video Monitoring, as well as integrated Corporate Media Rooms.

Our attention to detail is second to none, our prices are market competitive, and we always do superior work.
